

LET PEDESTRIANS CROSS, THEN TAKE YOUR TURN.

If you want to turn right and there's a pedestrian in the crosswalk, he has the right of way. Even if he's the world's slowest living human. Even if you can turn in front of him without impeding his progress. Even if you're in a big fat hurry. You shouldn't go until he's back on the curb. So please wait your turn until the crosswalk is clear.

It's the Street Smarts thing to do.
